

For more information, visit artsandhealth.duke.edu or call 919.684.6124

Artistic Diversity Creates an Appealing Whole

by Triangle Visual Artists

July 3 – August 28, 2018

Arts & Health Galleries
Duke Hospital Concourse

Triangle Visual Artists (TVA) is a group of diverse but complementary artists. Each member of TVA has a unique style of work that comes together to form a cohesive exhibit both pleasing to the eye and sometimes contemplative. TVA is part of a movement of self-represented artists.

Current members are Sharon Barnes, Natalie Boorman, Louise Francke, Jillian Goldberg, Chrystal Hardt, James Keul, Henri Lori, Joan Meade, Karin Neuvirth, Dennis Szerszen, David Taylor, Hollie Taylor, Trudy Thomson.

Triangle Visual Artists provides opportunities for its members to share expertise, connections, philosophy and values. We were the first "pop-up" gallery in the Triangle and bring our work into Triangle communities. Our exhibit at Duke Medical Center includes original paintings, photography, pottery, jewelry, and marbled silk.

This exhibit and events are free & open to the public.

[facebook.com/
ArtsHealthAtDuke](https://www.facebook.com/ArtsHealthAtDuke)